PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Lucia Frangione is an internationally produced award-winning author, now focused on film and television. She has had two short films screen in festivals, she has two features in development and two TV pilots. Her thirty-three plays have been produced across Canada and in cities like Chicago, Boston, London and Warsaw. She is a fast, flexible writer and works well solo or in collaboration. She has a strong work ethic, a pervasive sense of humour, an unjustified amount of hope for the world and always makes deadlines. She's interested in working in a writer's room, writing Christmas movies, producing Indie features and ultimately selling her own tv series.
